

CS290- Project Proposal

Jeffrey Acuario

For my project I will be creating a website for my wife's potential photography business. She has been into photography for a long time and I think having a website will help her boost the brand she is trying to create.

The pages I plan to have are homepage, about, contact, and investment. All the pages will have the horizontal menu that allows users to click through the different pages.

The home page will have the carousel slideshow in the middle of the page. It will take up most of the screen.

The about page will have a photo of my wife and a description about how she discovered photography as well as a small bio. There will also be a clickable link to her Instagram page.

The contact page will have a POST form that will submit to http://web.engr.oregonstate.edu/~zhangluy/tools/class-content/form_tests/check_request.php. The form includes the first name, last name, email, phone number, date requested and a brief story. The page will also include my wife's contact information. For the downloadable link requirement, a term of service will be found here.

The Investment page will have the different options that are available which will be an unordered list. There will also be a scroll box with potential testimonials. I will reach out to a couple of family members who she took photos for and ask them to write a small testimonial for this section.
